DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 1, 3, and 5 objected to because of the following informalities: the examiner suggests clarifying the claims in line 1 of each claim. The examiner suggests changing "In an impact absorption..." to "An impact absorption..." Appropriate correction is required.

3. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: in line 7 "an impact absorption type steering column" and in line 14, "a secondary collision." Both elements have been properly anteceded. The examiner suggests changing "a"/"an" to "the." Appropriate correction is required.

4. Claims 3 and 5 are objected to because of the following informalities: in claim 3, line 11 and claim 5, line 9, "a secondary collision" has already been properly anteceded. The examiner suggests changing to "the secondary collision." Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3616

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(f) he did not himself invent the subject matter sought to be patented.

6. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) because the applicant did not invent the claimed subject matter. Foreign publication, JP 2004-017908, was found and was invented by Kiyoaki Tono, and is clearly anticipates the current application. It is noted that the Tono reference is the priority to the current application, but as noted was invented by Tono and not the current applicant.

7. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Koyo (JP 57-22965). Regarding claim 5, Koyo discloses having a steering column fitting with a ring that absorbs impact energy while frictionally sliding on said steering column when a secondary collision occurs (see Figures 1 and 2).

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following are collapsible steering columns: Kubokawa (US 3,460,400), and JP 57-51574.
